From acclaimed creator Yangsook Choi comes the bestselling classic about finding the courage to be yourself and being proud of your background. How many of us turn away from the mirror, or from a snapshot of us, thinking, "That's not me." The truth is, we're right. Due to the human brain's neurological processes the one face our human mind is incapable of seeing is our own. And yet, it's important that we do see ourselves as we truly are. Now as never before in history, our need to explore the pivotal issue of how we see ourselves and understand what we look like has become very important. This is the reason that we're witnessing the explosion of the phenomenal trend called the "selfie." Fascinated by the common response, "I'm not photogenic" to photos of themselves—even by clients internationally renowned for their beauty—photographer Pina Di Cola discovered a breakthrough in self-image: the theory of the Photo-Image. Pairing her thirty years of experience as a celebrity photographer with in-depth research in the fields of neurology, psychology, and sociology, she discovered how essential truly seeing ourselves is to living a full life.

Upton Sinclair, one of America's foremost and most prolific authors, addresses the cultivation of the mind and the body in this 1922 volume. Sinclair's goal was to attempt to tell the reader how to live, how to find health, happiness and success, and how to develop fully both the mind and the body. Part One: The Book of the Mind covers such subjects as faith, reason, morality, and the subconscious. Part Two: The Book of the Body develops such subjects as errors in diet, the fasting cure, food and poisons, work and play, and diseases and their cures .

Where the eye sees the brushstroke, the heart sees the truth. At thirty-five, Gabriella "Ella" Graham is a successful portrait artist in London. She captures the essential truth in each of her subjects' faces—a tilt of the chin, a glint in the eye—and immortalizes it on canvas. But closer to home, Ella finds the truth more elusive. Her father abandoned the family when she was five, and her mother has remained silent on the subject ever since. Ella's sister, Chloe, is engaged to Nate, an American working in London, but Ella suspects that he may not be so committed. Then, at Chloe's behest, Ella agrees to paint Nate's portrait. From session to session, Ella begins to see Nate in a different light, which gives rise to conflicted feelings. In fact, through the various people she paints—including an elderly client reflecting on her life and a woman dreading the prospect of turning forty—Ella realizes that there is so much more to a person's life than what is seen on the surface. And as her portraits of Nate and the others progress, they begin to reveal less about their subjects than about the artist herself. Look for special features inside.
