This Quick Reference Guide Gives You A Brief

Since the release of the first draft of the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS), NSTA has been at the forefront in promoting the standards and helping science educators become familiar with and learning to navigate this exciting but complex document. Later, when the final version was released and states began adopting the standards, NSTA started to develop resouces that would assist educators with their implementation. Along the way, NSTA learned that even the simplest of resources, like a one-page cheat sheet, can be extremely useful. Many of those tools are collected here, including: a two-page "cheat sheet" that describes the practices, core ideas, and crosscutting concepts that make up the three dimensions described in A Framework for K-12 Science Education; an "Inside the Box" graphic that spells out all of the individual sections of text that appear on a page of the NGSS; a Venn diagram comparing the practices in NGSS, Common Core State Standards, Mathematics, and Common Core State Standards, English Language Arts; and matrices showing how the NGSS are organized by topic and disciplinary core idea. This guide also provides the appropriate performance expectations; disciplinary core ideas; practices; crosscutting concepts; connections to engineering, technology, and applications of science; and connections to nature of science. The book's emphasis is on easy. Find the parts of the standards most relevant to you, acquaint yourself with the format, and find out what each of the differenct parts means. Indispensable to science teachers at all levels, as well as to administrators, curriculum developers, and teacher educators.

This book elaborates on different aspects of the decision making process concerning the management of climate risk in museums and historic houses. The goal of this publication is to assist collection managers and caretakers by providing information that will allow responsible decisions about the museum indoor climate to be made. The focus is not only on the outcome, but also on the equally important process that leads to that outcome. The different steps contribute significantly to the understanding of the needs of movable and immovable heritage. The decision making process to determine the requirements for the museum indoor climate includes nine steps: Step 1. The process to make a balanced decision starts by clarifying the decision context and evaluating what is important to the decision maker by developing clear objectives. In Step 2 the value of all heritage assets that are affected by the decision are evaluated and the significance of the building and the movable collection is made explicit. Step 3. The climate risks to the moveable collection are assessed. Step 4: Those parts of the building that are considered valuable and susceptible to certain climate conditions are identified. Step 5. The human comfort needs for visitors and staff are expressed. Step 6: To understand the indoor climate, the building physics are explored. Step 7. The climate specifications derived from step 3 to 5 are weighed and for each climate zone the optimal climate conditions are specified. Step 8: Within the value framework established in Step 1, the options to optimize the indoor climate are considered and selected. Step 9: All options to reduce the climate collection risks are evaluated by the objectives established in Step 1.

Starting out with Essential Oils and need a quick reference guide? Essential Oils List and Benefits is a quick and easy reference guide covering the most common essential oils. The concise information is informative yet easy to scan for quick reference. The small size allows the option of carrying it in a handbag or backpack and take it everywhere you go! Each Essential Oil entry within this guide gives a brief introduction to each oil and covers it's main uses and benefits. The key ingredients are also listed and the unique aromatic description. Essential oils are the highly concentrated version of the natural oils in plants. Getting essential oils from plants is done with a process called distillation, most commonly distillation by steam or water, where many parts of the plants are being used, including the plant roots, leaves, stems, flowers, or bark. After distillation, the outcome is a highly concentrated portion of essential oil, which will have the characteristic fragrance and properties of the plant from which it was extracted, and contain the true essence of the plant it came from. This includes the smell, but also the plant's healing properties and other plant characteristics. You can see how this highly potent extract of a plant or herb can be extremely useful for many purposes. Essential oils have been used throughout history in many cultures for their medicinal and therapeutic benefits. "I believe that for every illness or ailment known to man, that God has a plant out here that will heal it. We just need to keep discovering the properties for natural healing." ? Vannoy Gentles Fite The aim of this guide is to provide a quick reference to the most common essential oils, giving its readers better access to information on the move.

"If every HR professional were to read this book and apply what they learnt I'd be out of a job – and I'd be happy. Why? Because workplace conflict would no longer be damaging businesses or harming people." This was the motivation for Marc, a professional mediator, in writing this book – to create a practical conflict resolution toolkit for HR. DIY Mediation gives you the necessary skills and framework to use a mediation style approach to nip low level workplace conflict in the bud. This book covers: The Issue. The critical knowledge needed to understand conflict - what it is, why it matters and how to recognise it. The Skills. The four key skills to apply when using DIY Mediation supported by straightforward, practical tools. The Process. The AGREE framework, a simplified step by step mediation model you can follow to intervene quickly and effectively. Marc's 25 years corporate management and HR experience and successful mediation track record combine in this book to create essential know-how for every HR professional. In top HR Director Martha Desmond's words this book is a "valuable resource which I will keep in my office library to be consulted on a frequent basis".
